
Contents

Introduction by Donald S. Lee	1
Freedom in the Philosophy of Ralph Waldo Emerson by Russell B. Goodman	5
Freedom and Wildness in Thoreau's "Walking" by Paul F. Schmidt	11
Free from the Problem of Freedom by John Lachs	17
The Conception of Freedom in Royce's Early Idealism by Robert Burch	23
Royce on Freedom: Reply to Robert Burch by Robert S. Corrington	31
James, Peirce, Dewey, and the Supernatural Origin of Ideals by Edward Petry, Jr.	35
Freedom and Cognition in Recent American Philosophy by Harold A. Durfee	43
Two Defenses of Freedom: Peirce and James by John E. Smith	51
The Defense of Freedom in Peirce and James: Some Comments by Sandra B. Rosenthal	65
The Idea of Freedom in James and Santayana by Alfred William Levi	71
Levi on Moral and Aesthetic Freedom by Angelo Juffras	77
Contributors	81
Program	83
