

American Association of Philosophy Teachers Studies in Pedagogy

Publication Agreement

This Agreement gives the American Association of Philosophy Teachers ("AAPT") permission to publish the author's manuscript (the "Manuscript") in the AAPT Studies in Pedagogy (the "Journal") and preserves rights for the author as set forth below.

To facilitate publication of the Manuscript in the Journal, the Author hereby assigns and transfers to the AAPT certain copyright intellectual property rights in the Manuscript as follows

- a) for the first publication of the Manuscript in the Journal in any medium including but not limited to online, print, database, DVD, microform, and all forms of electronic publication, storage, and/or transmission. The Author understands that the AAPT shall hold copyright to the Journal as a collected work and to the Manuscript as part of this collection.
- b) for the publication of the Manuscript in all future reprints and versions of the Journal, in any medium including but not limited to print, online, database, DVD, and all forms of electronic publication, storage, and/or transmission.

To preserve the Author's right to use the content of this Manuscript, the Author also retains certain copyright and intellectual property rights. After the Manuscript has been published in the Journal, the Author may republish the content of the Manuscript in any language and in any format, for any educational or instructional purposes in which the Manuscript is made available for use without charge. The Author is also free to publish revised and/or longer works derived from this Manuscript in any other book, article, dissertation, or anthology the Author might write or edit. All commercial republication of the Manuscript shall be subject to the approval of the Philosophy Documentation Center ("PDC"), on behalf of the AAPT.

After the Manuscript has been published in the Journal, the Author may post the original text of the Manuscript as submitted to the Journal to open-access websites. However, to help protect the Journal's modest income, any file used for this purpose may not duplicate page images from the Journal or the look and feel of the Journal.

The Author agrees that PDC has the perpetual right to define terms and grant permission for licensing, duplicating, photocopying, and/or downloading of the Manuscript as published in the Journal. The Author further agrees that PDC may give third parties permission to republish the Manuscript or part or parts thereof in any medium including but not limited to print, online, database, DVD, and all forms of electronic publication, storage, and/or transmission.

The Author warrants that s/he has the right to grant the license and permission set forth above, that the Manuscript is the Author's original work, and that it has not been previously published. The Author further warrants that the Manuscript contains no libelous or unlawful statements and does not infringe on the rights of others. If excerpts from copyrighted works are included, the author has obtained or will obtain permission from the copyright owners and will credit the sources in the article.

Manuscript Title

Lead Author: Signature + Printed Name

Date

Please return this form promptly by E-mail to the Editor.

Alternatively, please return to:

AAPT Studies in Philosophy
c/o Philosophy Documentation Center permissions@pdcnet.org