What is happiness?

Sophia Gerl

February 10th 2020

Happiness is the way that somebody makes you feel. Happiness is somebody's smile making you smile. Happiness is ice cream on a hot summer day. Happiness is many different definitions, A lot of different things make me happy. Some I don't want to share some I do. I believe that happiness is a feeling and a sense, and probably many different things for different people. It could be a memory of some sort or a fuzzy pair of socks but my point is it's different for everybody like Rain makes me happy because it makes me all wet or when I'm inside it's all cozy and warm and I can be cuddled up in a blanket.

I also like to talk which makes me happy.

I Love the winter that makes me happy too... I could come up with tons of things. Happiness is happiness. In conclusion

I don't know how to explain happiness

very well.
