2. TRAVEL AND ACCOMMODATION INFORMATION:
Travel to Bryan - College Station -- Texas A & M University

If you fly to College Station by way of Dallas-Fort Worth airport, you will find the Rio Airlines desk next to that of Gate 1 in terminal "Braniff A." If you arrive on an airline other than Braniff, you will have to use the tram, or "Airtrans" to get to the Braniff-Rio terminal. This will require as much as 30 minutes extra transfer time, plus 25¢.

If you fly to Dallas and continue by car, you may anticipate a drive of approximately three hours. Take Interstate 20 to Dallas and pick up I.H. 35 at the interchange. Drive south to Waco and then pick up State Highway 6 to College Station. When you reach Bryan - College Station, take Business 6. You will find the Aggieland Inn on the right immediately after you pass the Texas A & M campus. The Aggieland Inn will be on your right. This will take two hours.

If you fly to Houston and continue by car, drive north on I.H. 45 to Conroe, west on State Highway 105 to Navasota, and North on State Highway 6 to College Station. The Aggieland Inn will be on your left on Business 6. This will take two hours. You can also fly on Rio from Houston to College Station.

The airport in College Station is known as Easterwood airport. We suggest that you make your reservations early.
