As we head into this month's edition, candidly, we are still figuring this all out. So, don't be surprised if you see style changes and improvements creep in over the next few months. The nice thing is we are finally scaling up promoting this magazine, while getting the Season Two anthology ready for a July 31st release. Maybe scaling a magazine while preparing a book wasn't the best idea ever...

Of course, we are also all locked down because of COVID. Seems, at least in the US, it is going to get worse before it gets better... stay safe.

Also, we would love to start working more with book clubs to use our short stories as part of their groups. If you, or anyone you know, has a book club that is looking for material, please let us know!

Best Wishes,

Kolby Granville
