

International Philosophical Quarterly

Joseph W. Koterski, S.J., Editor-in-Chief

International Philosophical Quarterly (IPQ) provides an international peer-reviewed forum in English for the exchange of basic philosophical ideas. Established at Fordham University in 1960, IPQ stands in the general tradition of theistic and personalist humanism, but without further restriction of school or philosophical orientation within these broad perspectives. It is open to the philosophical discussion of contemporary issues as well as historical studies in philosophy, and in each issue publishes articles, review articles, reviews, book notices and a list of books received. The journal circulates in 70 countries and enjoys contributions from authors around the world. IPQ numbers among its Associate Editors scholars from Europe and the Far East, and maintains a long-standing relationship with the Facultés Universitaires Notre-Dame de la Paix in Belgium. The journal is published by the Philosophy Documentation Center in cooperation with the Foundation for International Philosophical Exchange and more information about IPQ is available online at www.pdcnet.org/ipq.html.

American Catholic Philosophical Quarterly

The Journal of the American Catholic Philosophical Association

Edited by Robert Wood

Established in 1927, the American Catholic Philosophical Quarterly (ACPQ) is one of the premier philosophy journals in North America. This peer-reviewed journal has a rich and varied content, featuring scholarly articles, topical discussions, and book reviews dealing with all philosophical areas and approaches. Every third issue is dedicated entirely to the work and legacy of a particular thinker, and recent special issues have focused on Kant, St. Augustine, Thomas Reid, Medieval Islamic Thought, Peirce, Plotinus, Sartre, Albertus Magnus, Heidegger, and Descartes. ACPQ is available as a benefit of membership in the American Catholic Philosophical Association and is published on behalf of the ACPA by the Philosophy Documentation Center. More information about the journal is available online at www.pdcnet.org/acpq.html.

ACPQ is indexed in Academic Search Premier, American Humanities Index, Article@INIST, ArticleFirst, Arts & Humanities Citation Index, Catholic Periodical and Literature Index, Current Contents/Arts & Humanities, Expanded Academic ASAP, FRANCIS, Humanities Index/Abstracts, Index Philosophicus, InfoTrac OneFile, International Bibliography of Periodical Literature, International Bibliography of Book Reviews of Scholarly Literature, International Philosophical Bibliography, Periodicals Content Index, Philosopher's Index, Religious and Theological Abstracts, and Wilson OmniFile. Electronic access to the fulltext is provided through POIESIS: Philosophy Online Serials. More information is available at www.nlx.com/posp.

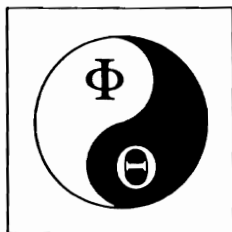

Annual membership in the American Catholic Philosophical Association also includes a subscription to the Proceedings of the American Catholic Philosophical Association, a 300-page volume of edited papers from the Association's annual meeting. Members of the American Catholic Philosophical Association thus receive two important scholarly publications each year as a benefit of membership—a great value!

ISSN 1051-3558 • Quarterly • 2005 Membership subscription rates (includes annual ACPA Proceedings volume): Professor $63, Assoc. Prof. $58, Asst. PHILOSOPHY THEOLOGY

MARQUETTE UNIVERSITY JOURNAL

Philosophy & Theology is a peer-reviewed journal that addresses all areas of interest to these two ancient disciplines and explores the common ground that joins them. Although Philosophy & Theology is not a journal of the philosophy of religion, one issue each year includes articles dedicated to critical contact with the thought and legacy of the theologian Karl Rahner. Rahner's creative appropriation of diverse theological and philosophical sources provided an innovative conceptual framework that established his reputation as one of the most influential systematic theologians in the Vatican II era. Philosophy & Theology is published for Marquette University by the Philosophy Documentation Center.

Philosophy & Theology is indexed in Academic Search Premier, Current Abstracts, Expanded Academic ASAP, Index Philosophicus, InfoTrac OneFile, International Bibliography of Periodical Literature (IBZ), International Bibliography of Book Reviews of Scholarly Literature (IBR), the MLA International Bibliography, Philosopher's Index, Religion Index, and Religious and Theological Abstracts. Electronic access is provided through POIESIS: Philosophy Online Serials and all issues are available to libraries that subscribe to both the journal and POIESIS. Abstracts and tables of contents are available through EBSCO's Current Abstracts. Philosophy & Theology has been available in electronic format since it was first published in 1986 and it can still be ordered on CD-ROM. The first ten volumes of the journal are also available on a fully searchable CD-ROM. More information about the journal is available at www.pdcnet.org/pt.html.

The Second Annual Symposium Book Award

In the interest of recognizing excellence in research in Continental philosophy, in Canada and abroad, we would like to invite book submissions for the second annual Symposium Book Award. The winner of the award will serve as keynote speaker at the annual conference of the Canadian Society for Continental Philosophy at the University of Saskatchewan in May 2007. Symposium will also feature a review essay of the award-winning book in our fall 2007 issue.

Books submitted for this award will be assessed by a committee of persons selected from the Symposium editorial board. Assessment criteria include the originality and importance of a book to its field of inquiry. The winner will be announced on February 1, 2007.
