NEWS AND NOTES

FEATURES

The Oppression of Nonhuman Life: An Analysis Using the Lens of Karen Warren’s Work ............................................. Lisa Kretz 195
Place, Community, and the Generation of Ecological Autonomy .......... Tony Chackal 215
Do Species Really Matter? The Case of “The” Galápagos Giant Tortoise ........................................................ Brendan Cline 241

DISCUSSION PAPERS

A Cartesian Approach to Environmental Ethics ................................ Ryan Garrett 261
Aldo Leopold’s “Great Possessions” ........................................... Lisa Gerber 269
Have You Benefitted from Carbon Emissions? You May Be a “Morally Objectionable Free Rider” ........................ J. Spencer Atkins 283

BOOK REVIEWS

Breenea Holland: Allocating the Earth: A Distributional Framework for Protecting Environmental Capabilities in Environmental Law and Policy. ......................................................... Jeremy Bendik-Keymer 297
J. Baird Callicott, John van Buren, and Keith W. Brown: Greek Natural Philosophy: The Presocratics and Their Importance for Environmental Philosophy ........................................ Aimée Koeplin 301
Angela Kallhoff, Marcello Di Paola, and Maria Schörgenhummer, eds.: Plant Ethics: Concepts and Applications ........................................ Per Sandin 303