

Thought

---

FORDHAM UNIVERSITY QUARTERLY

---

NEW RELIGIONS

Regulating Cult Activities: The Limits of Religious Freedom . . . . .	Richard J. Regan, S.J.	185
Affiliation and Disaffiliation: A Role-Theory Interpretation of Joining and Leaving New Religious Movements . . . . .	David G. Bromley Anson Shupe	197
The Several Meanings of Cult . . . . .	Robert Ellwood	212
Learning from the New Religious Movements . . . . .	John A. Saliba, S.J.	225
Brainwashing: The Myth and the Actuality . . . .	Gene G. James	241
Cultphobia . . . . .	Brock K. Kilbourne James T. Richardson	258
Marginal Religious Movements as Precursors of a Sociocultural Revolution . . . . .	Mary Ann Groves	267
"Uncivil Religions" and Religious Deprogramming . . . . .	Thomas Robbins	277
Supreme Court Roundup: 1984 Term . . . . .	Richard J. Regan, S.J.	290

---

THOUGHT, Fordham University Quarterly, published in March, June, September, and December, by Fordham University Press. Editorial, advertising, publication, and subscription offices: Fordham University Press, Bronx, New York 10458. June 1986, Vol. LXI, No. 241.

Single copy, $7.50; yearly, $17.50 (individuals), $25.00 (institutions); foreign, add $3.50 for postage. Second class postage paid at Bronx, NY and at office of additional entry at Lancaster, PA. THOUGHT, Reg. U.S. Pat. Off. © Copyright by Fordham University, 1986.