

Environmental Philosophy

Fall 2006
Volume 3, Number 2

CONTENTS

EDITORIAL PREFACE	Ingrid Leman Stefanovic	4
FEATURES
The Thing Itself, under Asphalt	Joan Maloof	5
Moral Pluralism, Skillful Means, and Environmental Philosophy	William Edelglass	8
Gestalts, Refrains, and Philosophical Pluralism: A Response to Toadvine	Alan Drengson Tim Quick	17
Wilderness in the City: Not Such a Long Drive After All	W.S.K. Cameron	28
Ethics and Natural History: Levinas and Other-Than-Human Animals	Christian Diehm	34
Ecological Value Cognition and the American Capitalist Ethos	John R. White	44
Democratic Deliberation, Public Reason, and Environmental Politics	Scott F. Aikin	52
Commentary on Democratic “Deliberation, Public Reason, and Environmental Politics”	Adam Briggie Robert Frodeman Scott F. Aikin	59
BOOKS
Mark Hasley: Deleuze and Environmental Damage: Violence of the Text	Thomas Nail	64
Gay Hawkins: The Ethics of Waste: How We Relate to Rubbish	Gabriel Eidelman	67
REPORT ON BOOKS	Joshua Mason	69