

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Pursuing Knowledge for its own sake amidst a World of Poverty: Reconsidering Balogun on Philosophy's Relevance Thaddeus METZ	1-18
https://dx.doi.org/10.4314/ft.v8i2.1
Between Theory and Praxis: Reply to Thaddeus Metz Oladele Abiodun BALOGUN	19-26
https://dx.doi.org/10.4314/ft.v8i2.2
How Relevant is African Philosophy in Africa? A Conversation with Oladele Balogun Chukwueloka S. UDUAGWU	27-36
https://dx.doi.org/10.4314/ft.v8i2.3
Ideology and Oladele Balogun's Perspective on Parenthood and the 'Educated Person' Babajide Olugbenga DASAOLU	37-47
https://dx.doi.org/10.4314/ft.v8i2.4
Philosophy as Sophia and Phronēsis: Interrogating Oladele Balogun's Contribution to African Philosophy Olatunji A. OYESHILE and Omotayo A. OLADEBO	49-62
https://dx.doi.org/10.4314/ft.v8i2.5
Unveiling Ezumezu Logic as a Framework for Process Ontology and Yorùbá Ontology Emmanuel OFUASIA	63-83
https://dx.doi.org/10.4314/ft.v8i2.6
The Methodological Significance of Chimakonam's Ezumezu Logic Amara Esther ANI	85-95
https://dx.doi.org/10.4314/ft.v8i2.7
Hountondji And Bachelard: Pluralism as a Methodological and Phenomenological Concept in Approaching the Cultural Knowledge of Africa Gabriel Kafure da ROCHA	97-110
https://dx.doi.org/10.4314/ft.v8i2.8
Are we Finished with the Ethnophilosophy Debate? A Multi-Perspective Conversation Elvis IMAFIDON, Bernard MATOLINO, Lucky Uchenna OGBONNAYA, Ada AGADA, Aribiah David ATTOE, Fainos MANGENA and

Edwin ETIEYIBO
<https://dx.doi.org/10.4314/ft.v8i2.9>

111-137

Reincarnation, resurrection and the question of representation
Hasskei MAJEED and Mogobe RAMOSE 139-158
<https://dx.doi.org/10.4314/ft.v8i2.10>

Book Review: A Philosopher's Interrogation of Outworn Cultural Beliefs about Albinism 159-164
<https://dx.doi.org/10.4314/ft.v8i2.11>

Book Review: A Review of the Reflections on Yoruba Metaphysics and Jurisprudence 165-172
<https://dx.doi.org/10.4314/ft.v8i2.12>

CALL FOR SPONSORSHIP:

*The Editorial Board of Filosofia Theoretica hereby calls on corporate bodies, philanthropists and funding organizations to come to the aid of this journal. Potential funders will be acknowledged in the printed copies/e-copies as well as in the journal's website. Funding could cover the production of one issue or several issues or the bilingual editions. We need this funding to enable us maintain and improve on our existing high standard. To discuss the terms of funding, please email us: admin@cspafrika.org and we will get back to you. For inquiries, email us at info@cspafrika.org Thank you!*

Official Notice:

The CSP has officially migrated from the University of Calabar website which has hosted it for a long time to its independent website. Every information about the society and the journal can now be accessed at the new site below:

<http://www.cspafrika.org>