Introduction

Special Issue: Suicide: Why Do People Kill Themselves In The Name Of Religion?
Kjersti Hellesøy ................................................................. 257

Articles

Self-Harm and Falun Gong: Karmic Release, Martyrdom or Suicide
Helen Farley ........................................................................ 259

Why Muslims Kill Themselves on Film: From Girard’s Victimage Mechanism to a
Radical Constructivist Explanation
Christopher Hartney ............................................................ 276

Rhetoric, Revolution and Resistance in Jonestown, Guyana
Rebecca Moore .................................................................... 303

Suicide and Cultural Memory in Functional Television
Lynn S. Neal ......................................................................... 322

Living torches of Tibet – Religious and Political Implications of the Recent Self-Immolations
Katarina Plank ..................................................................... 343

The Devil Made Her Do it: Understanding Suicide, Demonic Discourse, and the Social Construction of ‘Health’ in Yucatan, Mexico
Beatriz Reyes-Foster ............................................................ 363