

THE MODERN SCHOOLMAN

Volume LXXXIX, Number 3–4

JULY and OCTOBER 2012

A Note from the Editor	129
Jonathan D. Jacobs, Editor

Special Issue: Theological Themes in Medieval Philosophy

ARTICLES

Evil as Nothing: Contrasting Construals in Boethius and Anselm	131
Marilyn McCord Adams
Duns Scotus and Analogy: A Brief Note	147
Richard Cross
Hylomorphism and Design: A Reconsideration of Aquinas's Fifth Way	155
John Kronen and Sandra Menssen
Credo ut mirer : Anselm on Sacred Beauty	181
Thomas Williams
The Double Truth Question and the Epistemological Status of Theology in Late 13th Century Debates at Paris	189
Andreas Speer
St. Thomas Aquinas on the Problem of Too Many Thinkers	209
Patrick Toner
Scotus on Hell	223
Giorgio Pini
The End of (Human) Life as We Know It: Thomas Aquinas on Persons, Bodies and Death	243
Christina Van Dyke

BOOK REVIEW

The Problem of Negligent Omissions: Medieval Action Boethius and Anselm , Michael Barnwell	260
Steven J. Jensen	