Terms and Conditions for Access and Use by Authorized Individual Users of Electronic Publications provided by Philosophy Documentation Center

This website is operated under terms defined by the Philosophy Documentation Center, P.O. Box 7147, Charlottesville, Virginia, 22906-7147, USA. By subscribing to a publication on this website you agree to abide by the following Terms and Conditions. Philosophy Documentation Center reserves the right to change or amend these Terms and Conditions at any time and without prior notification. Continued use of this site will mean that you accept any changes or amendments. This agreement applies to authorized individuals who personally subscribe to electronic publications provided by Philosophy Documentation Center on this website. The terms and conditions for institutional subscribers are provided in a separate Licensing Agreement for Institutions.

PROTECTION OF PUBLICATIONS ON THIS SITE

This website contains Licensed Material owned by or licensed to the Philosophy Documentation Center, including but not limited to the content, title, and layout of each publication. These materials are protected by intellectual property laws including, without restriction, copyright, trademarks, and database rights, that Philosophy Documentation Center has agreed to protect on behalf of each publication. This commitment requires Philosophy Documentation Center to place certain restrictions on access and use of this site.

As an Authorized User, you agree to use any of these materials provided on this site ONLY for the purposes expressly permitted below. Any other use of these materials, including but not limited to re-distribution or re-publication in any print or electronic format, is prohibited without prior written permission from the relevant intellectual property rights owner.

YOU MAY:

- view, download, copy, and save to hard disk SINGLE COPIES of single articles, reviews, or any other items in any issue of a publication to which you have subscribed.
- store for editing or temporary storage only, or print out SINGLE COPIES of individual search results; SINGLE COPIES of individual articles (NOT ENTIRE ISSUES OF JOURNALS) for personal use, scholarly, educational, or scientific research or study, as governed by United States Copyright Law.

YOU MAY NOT:

- divulge or disseminate a username and password, or enable anyone who is not an Authorized User to gain access to the Licensed Materials.
- use robots or intelligent agents to access, search, and/or systematically download any portion of the Licensed Materials.
- transmit, disseminate, or otherwise make available the Licensed Materials or any components thereof to any persons or entities who have not been authorized by Philosophy Documentation Center to use and access this site.
- disassemble, decompile, or in any way attempt to reverse engineer any content or software provided on this site.
- make ANY commercial use of ANY content on this site without the express written and prior permission of Philosophy Documentation Center.

COURSE PACKS AND ELECTRONIC RESERVE

Users of this site may not incorporate all or any part of the Licensed Material in Course Packs and Electronic Reserve collections without the prior written permission of the Philosophy Documentation Center, which may set out further terms and conditions for such usage.

DISCLAIMER

Philosophy Documentation Center cannot guarantee that availability of any services operated from this website or linked services will be uninterrupted or error-free, or that any service or the servers hosting any service are free from viruses or other forms of harmful computer code.

USER PRIVACY AND USAGE REPORTS

To maintain and improve this electronic service, and to protect each publication included on the site, Philosophy Documentation Center monitors all use of the website. Philosophy Documentation Center agrees not to share information about Authorized Users with any third parties, for any reason, except as required by a court of appropriate jurisdiction. Philosophy Documentation Center may share subscriber information with the owners of each publication, but only for the purposes of allowing them to confirm the identity of their subscribers in a manner consistent with the regular conduct of business. Philosophy Documentation Center shall not otherwise give third parties access to the identities of users for any purpose.

TERM AND TERMINATION

These terms and conditions come into effect when a person subscribing to a publication through this website checks the box acknowledging "I have read and accepted the Terms and Conditions for Access and Use" on the Product registration page. These terms and conditions remain effective for as long as the Authorized User continues to subscribe to the publication.

Philosophy Documentation Center may terminate this Agreement immediately if: (a) Philosophy Documentation Center's server logs show that the Authorized User has violated this Agreement; (b) Philosophy Documentation Center believes in good faith that the Authorized User's conduct violates or may violate applicable law; or (c) Philosophy Documentation Center believes in good faith that the conduct of the User is harmful to the interests of Philosophy Documentation Center, the publications on this site, other subscribers, or other users. In the event of such a termination by Philosophy Documentation Center, you understand and agree that the balance of the subscription payment shall not be refundable.

GOVERNING LAW

These terms and conditions shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the United States of America and the Commonwealth of Virginia; the parties irrevocably agree that any dispute arising out of, or in connection with, these terms and conditions will be subject to, and within, the jurisdiction of the courts of the Commonwealth of Virginia, USA.
