Online access to essential research in the humanities!

Browse dozens of scholarly journals, series, and conference proceedings in applied ethics, philosophy, and religious studies. Enjoy online research in huge selections of material dating back to 1890. All articles are fulltext searchable and OpenURL ready.

Many titles in the following categories:
- Analytic Philosophy
- Ancient Philosophy
- Applied Philosophy
- Business and Professional Ethics
- Catholic Tradition
- Conference Proceedings
- Contemporary Philosophy
- Continental Philosophy
- General Interest
- History of Philosophy
- Major Philosophers
- Philosophy and Religion
- Semiotics
- Social and Political Philosophy
- Teaching Philosophy

Coverage expands as new issues are published. Subscribers have access to current issues and complete archives. Free search and free page previews are available to non-subscribers. Open access provided for select titles. Content is displayed in either HTML or PDF format. Institutions may order single titles, bundles, or the entire collection. Pricing is modest, and multi-campus and consortia pricing is available.

Fulltext E-Collection – hosted by the Philosophy Documentation Center

Since 1966 the Philosophy Documentation Center (PDC) has earned a reputation for excellence with the non-profit publication of scholarly journals, series, and conference proceedings, and reference works. We also provide membership and publishing services for learned societies in philosophy and related fields. Our goal is to increase access to humanities scholarship in a fair and sustainable manner.
200,000+ articles, reviews, and other documents! Over 200 titles in English and other languages. Most titles available exclusively through PDC.

www.pdcnet.org/ecollection