In consideration of the Open Access publication of the Author’s manuscript (the “Manuscript”) in Ancient Philosophy (the “Journal”) by the Philosophy Documentation Center (the “Publisher”), the Author hereby assigns and transfers to the Journal, and its owner, Mathesis Publications, certain intellectual property rights in the Manuscript for the full term of copyright, including renewals and extension, as follows:

a) for the first publication of the Manuscript in the Journal in any medium including but not limited to online, print, database, DVD, microform, and all forms of electronic publication, storage, and/or transmission. The Publisher shall have the perpetual right to publish and distribute the Manuscript throughout the world in all forms of publication now known or hereinafter invented. Mathesis Publications shall hold copyright to the Journal as a collected work and to the Manuscript as part of this collection.

b) for the republication of the Manuscript in all future reprints and other versions of the Journal, in any medium including but not limited to print, online, database, DVD, microform, and all forms of electronic publication, storage, and/or transmission. The Publisher shall have the perpetual right to redistribute the Manuscript throughout the world in all forms of publication now known or hereinafter invented.

The Manuscript shall be published with a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial License (CC-BY-NC). This license allows users to share and adapt the material in the Manuscript, in any medium or format, and provides for:

- the unlimited right of unpaid access to the full text of the Manuscript as published in the Journal; and

- the unlimited right to copy, download or otherwise use the Manuscript for non-commercial purposes, with appropriate acknowledgment of the original publication in the Journal.

The Author shall have the right to post the Manuscript as published in the Journal to open access web sites, such as institutional depositories, with appropriate acknowledgment of the original publication in the Journal. The Author also retains the right to reuse the content of the Manuscript in all other publications they may write or edit. After the Manuscript has been published in the Journal, the Author may republish the Manuscript in any language and in any format for any non-commercial purpose. For the purpose of this Agreement, the use of the Manuscript as published in the Journal in a Virtual Learning Environment (VLE) or a course-pack distributed to up to 1,000 students in a single course, shall be considered non-commercial use.

The Author shall have the right to post the Manuscript as published in the Journal to open access web sites, such as institutional depositories, with appropriate acknowledgment of the original publication in the Journal. The Author also retains the right to reuse the content of the Manuscript in all other publications they may write or edit.

As a condition of publication of the Manuscript in the Journal under these terms, the Author agrees that a publication charge of US$1,600.00 shall be paid to the Publisher prior to publication. Applicable taxes or bank charges, if any, are not included in this amount. The purpose of this fee is to support continuing publication of the Journal with perpetual free access to this manuscript, as published in the Journal. The fee may be paid by the Author, the Author’s authorized agent, or a designated funding body or other entity. Payment must be received by the Publisher prior to publication of the Manuscript in the Journal.

The Author warrants that s/he has the right to grant the terms set forth above, that the Manuscript is the Author's original work, and that it has not been previously published. The Author further warrants that the Manuscript contains no libelous or unlawful statements and does not infringe on the rights of others. If excerpts from copyrighted works are included in the Manuscript, the Author has obtained permission from the copyright owners and credited the sources.
